Gen. Woods commanding in Alabama has issued orders allowing the several churches to be reopened and ministers to resume duties.

A man who had been five hours in his coffin in New York, awoke just in time to escape burial.

A diamond pin containing thirty diamonds and worth many hundred dollars was found at Bangor, Me., the other day, in a lot of rags imported from Smyrna.

A correspondent of the Detroit Free Press, writing from Three Rivers, Mich., states that the amount realized from the sale of the oil of pepermint made in that village last year is nearly $90,000, the plants having about thirty thousand plants.

Nobody talks much about ingratitude in this state, the subject is only interesting when brought home in some marketing to ourselves.

An exchange says Joseph Ashby, at the fair, ate a nine pound turkey the size of his hand in 33 minutes and won $200.

The total population of Alton by the last census is nine thousand six hundred and twenty nine.

In San Jose City where gold is most plentiful, and in one of the small American Republics, granite is used for cannon. Nice pocket change.

Another counterfeiter greenback $100 had made its appearance. The signatures of Lincoln and Chittenden are good but the portrait of Mr. Lincoln is coarse at the all generally much heavier in proportion than the genuine.

In November an Illinois newspaper published a full winter account of the peculiar style in which the neutrals conduct their wars. An English journal published a half winter on account of the peculiar manner in which the crows flew away—which is the best authority, American girls or English crows?

Many have a haunted house in their minds, and yet seen but heard about the houses that were supposed to have been built on the inside. Search made there, the house has only developed the fact that there are tracks of snow on the premises. There is something peculiar, however, in these tracks,—there was nothing of but one foot visible.

The newest style of houses in Philadelphia have the dining-room up stairs, above the parlors instead of below. Several of the banks have a dining-room, where dinner is regularly served to all hands, at the expense of the banks.

A gentleman in New Bedford, his wife and one of his children, were poisoned last week from eating partridge. It is supposed the bird had fed upon laurel berries, which made portions of its flesh poisonous; for while those who ate of its legs suffered, those eating its breast experienced no unpleasant consequences.

Several Episcopalians in Boston have organized an association the object of which is to promote the building and opening of churches, in the Protestant Episcopal Communion, where the sittings shall be free alike to rich and poor.

The Queen of England is now the temporal monarch of more Roman Catholics than the Pope, and more Mussulmen than the Porte.

The commanders of thirty vessels destroyed by the Alabama have been summoned as witnesses in the Semmes case.

According to the New York Herald's Toronto correspondent, the reason why the meeting of the Canadian Parliament is put off until May, is the fear of a Federal invasion during the winter.

Here is a little gospel truth expounded for the benefit of tanners, by the Rochester Union:

A man who is too mean to advertise farm lands he wants to sell, has put up a written notice on post in Arcade Hall in this city. A man who was inquiring for a small farm, was pointed to the notice on the post. He replied: "I can't buy land at a fair price of a man who does his advertising in that way. He'll steal the fence, and the pump handle, and the barn doors before he gives possession."

DISTURBANCE AT MACON CITY.—Two MEN KILLED.—Two cases of homicide occurred at Macon City in this State last week. The first grew out of a quarrel between Capt. Haverly, who lives at Atlanta in that county, and two brothers Higginbotham, about stealing the halter rein, when one or both of the Higginbothams fired on the Captain, who in turn fired on them, killing one, when the other fled. Capt. Haverly at once surrendered himself, and gave bail for his appearance to answer any indictment that might be found against him. Capt. Haverly is a quiet, honorable and peaceable citizen.
The Higginbothams were not under good character. They are said to have been buswhackers, in the early part of the war, but later were in the service of the government as detectives, (employed by the then authorities in Macon), and while acting as such, killed the Hines' and one Riley, noted buswhackers and thieves.

The other case occurred on Tuesday, which resulted in the death of Charles Gleam, who was shot by Captain Davis Gleam and Wm. King were in town that day—were both drinking—and disposed to raise a row. They had tried to raise a disturbance with Capt. Banta, about the acts of some of his militia towards them or their friends, when Capt. B. was in the service. Later in the day, they attacked young Mr. Roland and another Jerry.
They were both armed, frequently exhibiting their revolvers. Upon hearing what they were doing, Captains Davis and Banta went to the scene of the disturbance, when King and Gleam opened fire upon them. Captain Davis, who was armed, returned their fire, killing Gleam and capturing King.—S. Louis Dispatch.

AN IRISH REPUBLIC IN TEN WEEKS.

The New York Citizen of this week significantly says: "We tell the American public—and they have therefore joined us pretty accurate prophets in everything relative to the French cause—that before ten weeks there will be some where—an Irish Republic existing on the face of the earth, with flag, an army, a part of entry and exit, a navy of privates, and the tacit encouragement both of France and the United States, in the execution of belligerent acts against Great Britain."

The Knightstown, Indiana, Times says:
"An old gentleman some sixty years ago, residing in Hancock county, came to town one day this week with tears in his eyes, on the hunt for his wife. He said that some man, unknown to him, had run off with her. She had been out weaving the day before, and had failed to return home. The old man in describing her, said, that she was about twenty one years of age, a good worker, and very handsome; had on a striped dress, and a red handkerchief tied round her head."

The trout wife and her lover were in at Mr. Heller's store, and made several purchases, leaving on the train going west.
Old men who have young wives better be careful about sending them out weaving."

Navigation of the Colorado River.

In the Senate of the United States Pomery has introduced a bill incorporating about thirty gentlemen, residing in various parts of the country, under the name and style of "The Colorado River and Utah Transportation Company."

The certified stock of the corporation is fixed at $100,000, and the project which they have on hand is nothing less than establishing a line of steamers in Colorado River to connect with ocean steamers and express freight bound for Salt Lake.

One section of the bill provides for this line of river steamers and for improving the navigation of the Colorado, by digging and widening the channel, and grants alternate sections of land for six miles in width on each side of the river, from the Southern boundary of Colorado to the head of navigation. Another section empowers the corporation to construct about four hundred miles of wagon road to connect navigation with Prescott, the capital of Arizona Territory. The roads are to be surveyed and constructed under direction of three commissioners, appointed by the Secretary of the Interior, and a grant of land is made conveying alternate sections on each side of the road for six miles in width. Mineral lands are reserved to the United States.

If we all had windows in our hearts, many of us would take good care to keep the blinds closed.

The distilleries of Peoria are said to have consumed three and a half million bushels of corn in manufacturing whisky during the year 1863. But under the present excessive revenue tax whisky cannot be profitably manufactured at all, and by consequence the farmers have no market for their immense surplus of corn.

A terrible pestilence is raging in Berlin, Prussia. It is only second to the cholera. Twenty-five per cent of those attacked die with the disease.

The shadows of the mind are like those of the body. In the morning of life they all lie behind us; at noon we trample upon them, and in the evening they stretch along and deepen before us.

If a man sells his watch for fifty dollars, buys it back for forty dollars and sells it for forty-five dollars, how much does he make in the transaction? It looks did not. Boys, can you tell how much?
